About the History is in the Making competition

Whose words inspire you?

Writing is about connection. It can teach us about ourselves and other people, and collapse the time and space that separate us. To celebrate our bi-centenary, 20 current RSL Fellows have contributed to a brand new anthology that recognises some of the great writers of the past 200 years. You can access a digital version of the anthology on our website, or look for a paper copy in your school library.

We would like you to tell us about your favourite writer from the past. In no more than 500 words, tell us why your chosen writer means so much to you,

For full terms and conditions, please see our website.

Competition rules

- Entries must be your own work;
- Entries must be written in English and no longer than 500 words.

Prizes

Win National Book Tokens for you and your school library:

1st prize—£50 National Book Tokens

2nd prize—£25 National Book Tokens
